COUNCIL CLOSES BOOTHS

The city council last night passed an ordinance eliminating booths in restaurants and cafes. The ordinance will go into effect January 1st. The ordinance which is in seven sections was given its first reading last night.

It provided for a uniform tax of $20 yearly on all restaurants, chop houses and other eating places.

LEAVES FOR VACATION; GETS WIFE

R. J. E. Abbott, popular brakeman of the Santa Fe company left recently for a vacation trip. Yesterday he returned. He was accompanied by a charming bride. The bride was formerly Miss Margaret Moore of Bartelsville, Oklahoma, where the ceremony was performed.

Abbott and his bride have taken apartments at the Tamalpais apartments.

GRAND CANYON CHATEAU TO REOPEN

The petition of Robert Warner for a license to conduct the Grand Canyon, was acted upon favorably by the Board of Supervisors, yesterday and Warner was granted a license. With the exception of the Supervisor Zeb Knott, who has led the fight against the reopening of the place, all of the supervisors voted for the granting of the license.

Warner was warned that any violations of the law would result in the withdrawal of the license.

CHILD DIES OF INJURY OF TRAIN ACCIDENT

Elmer the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Buker, 30 Twelfth street died yesterday morning at the Craven hospital from injuries sustained Sunday afternoon when struck by a west bound Santa Fe train near the Tenth street crossing. The boy would have been three years old in February.

Harry Katanan a painter, 25 Eleventh street made a desperate but vain effort to rescue the child and narrowly escaped injury himself.

While playing with Violet Neroni, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Neroni, 26 Twelfth street, the boy wandered up onto the Santa Fe grade near Tenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Buker, had gone to San Francisco to attend the Exposition and the child had been left in the care of a twelve year old niece.

The child walked onto the cattle guard near Tenth street and his shoes became enmeshed in the iron "stirkers." The train in the charge of Conductor Kelly, bore down upon the child and before the engineer could bring it to a stop had struck the child. The boy was thrown to the side of the track by the cow catcher. He was picked up by Councilman H. L. Perry and rushed in the councilman's automobile to the Craven hospital where he was treated by Drs. H. L. Carpenter and W. E. Cunningham for fracture of the skull. Heroic efforts were made to save the child's life but without avail.

Mrs. N. E. Noell, 118 South Eleventh street who witnessed the accident from her home was hysterical.

Buker is a street railway company conductor.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the parent's home. The Rev. Henry K. Sanborne, pastor of the First Presbyterian church will conduct the services. Interment will be made in Sunset View cemetery. The smallwood Undertaking parlors are in charge.

SETTEES TO BE BOUGHT BY COUNCIL

The city council last night authorized the purchase of one hundred and fifty settees from the Exposition. The settees will average $1.75 a piece. Fifty will be used by the city and the remaining hundred will be utilized by the school board.

REQUIEM HIGH MASS TO BE CELEBRATED

A requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of the late Father Quinn, former assistant rector of St. Mark's Catholic church will be celebrated this morning at 7:30 o'clock.

CONTRACTOR FAIR TO THE EMPLOYEES

Work on the new municipal wharves is progressing at a rapid rate. Healey and Tibbitts, the contractors for the job are showing every disposition to be favorable to local labor and with a few exceptions the men employed are from this city.

The contractors are paying wages according to the union scale and several times to show their appreciation of the work of their men have allowed them more than the scale.

Officers of the company say that they are getting excellent results. "It is paying the company," said one of the officials yesterday afternoon, "the Healey Tibbitts people believe in treating their men right and the men are showing that they appreciate this fact."

The job promises to be one of the best ever done in Richmond and the contractors are to be complimented upon their fair and square methods.

SCHOOL BOARD IS FOR WORKERS REAL CITY BOOSTERS ACTION IS TO BE COMMENDED

The Daily News desires to call the attention of the people of Richmond to Messers J. O. Ford, J. N. Long and E. L. Jones, members of the Richmond school board. These gentlemen have established a precedent that will go down in the annals of the laboring people and all boosters of the city of Richmond as one of the most important in the city's history.

Their action in demanding that the work on the new public school at Pullman and other public institutions be done by Richmond labor, entitles them to great credit. The Daily News since its origin has fought to have all Richmond public work done by Richmond labor.

The Daily News had no selfish motive in this action, but to prosper a city must see to it that its citizens are given the opportunity to get the work for which they themselves pay the bills.

The school board has demonstrated itself on all occasions to be working for the interests and betterment of Richmond. They have not sought publicity in their efforts.

"Still waters runs deep," says an old adage. And so it is with these gentlemen. They have made no bluster or public demonstration of their action.

The people have voted $15,000 for school purposes in Richmond. The school trustees demand that every cent of money expended for the work must, as far as is possible, be spent in Richmond.

They do not specify that the work be done by union men, but they do demand that the work be done by Richmond labor.

The Daily News desires to express its warm admiration and its heartiest congratulations to the members of the board.

These are the sort of men that build up a city, and the people of the city of Richmond are to congratulated upon their wisdom in making this selection.

Have your work done by Richmond people: that mean's prosperity for the city.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PARISH OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH HELD LAST NIGHT

The annual meeting of the parish of the Trinity Episcopal church was held last night at the church. Vestrymen elected at the meeting were: Dr. P. C. Campbell, J. W. Taylor, H. G. Biggs, W. S. McRaken, Preston Rosier and D. W. Baker.

Lay delegates to the church convention to be held in San Francisco in February were elected as follows: Jack Parks, Preston Rosier, J. W. Taylor and D. W. Walker.

Delegates to the House of church women were selected as follows: Mrs. E. H. Harlow, Mrs. E. A. Preble, Mrs. P. C. Campbell, Mrs. J. W. Taylor and Mrs. M. L. Parks.

D. W. Baker was elected Superintendent of the Sunday school: Cedric Taylor, secretary-treasurer: and George Harlow, organist.

On Christmas eve exercises will be held. A Christmas tree and Santa Claus will be among the visitors.

As the church is without a permanent pastor, the announcement of pastors who will preach during the month was made. They follow: December 12, Rev. J. O. Lincoln, head of the Divinity school in San Francisco; December 19, Rev. W. M. Bours; December 26, Rev. Cecil Maxwell and December 31, Rev. W. M. Bours.

RICHMOND MOOSE DRILL TEAM CAPTURES FIRST PRIZE IN COMPETITION

Company F. Moose Defenders, drill team of the local lodge of Moose added to its laurels Sunday, when in competition with teams from Stockton, Sacramento and Santa Cruz, the local team was awarded first honors for the best military drilling. The drill was held in Stockton and was witnessed by a large crowd. As a reward, the team was presented a beautiful engraved silver cup.

The team was under the direction of Captain W. H. Evans, and many compliments upon the excellent work of the team were made.

The prize for the fancy drill was won by Stockton lodge and the drum corps prize by the San Francisco corps.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK UNIONS TO BE FOUGHT TO FINISH

At an enthusiastic meeting held last night at the Labor Temple, stockholders of the Richmond Daily News Publishing company selected attorneys to represent them in the fight against the suit brought by James P. Arnold, for $25,000, for an alleged libelous article appearing in the aDily News of a recent date.

The attorneys are W. S. Tinning of Martinez and Henry Wildgrube this city. A large sum of money to retain the services of the two attornpys was subscribed to by those present.

William Pennington, president of the Board of directors presided at the meeting.

That the action brought by Arnold is in a reality an attempt to "break" the unions and the Richmond Daily News was opinion of everyone present.

All are determined to fight the suit to the last ditch and representatives from many of the unions present announced that the organidations in the city would lead the fight.

"This damage suit is not brought for the purpose of collecting $25,000," said one of those present. "It is an attempt to break the Daily News and the unions of Richmond and Contra Costa county. This will be the supreme test for unionism in Contra Costa county and of Richmond and the unions will not be found wanting."

The meeting was well attended. That the unions of the city have awakened to the real motives behind the damage suit is evident, and the spirit of harmony and unanimity manifested indicated that the unions are determined to fight to the last for their existance.

INSURANCE SOUGHT BY MRS. PERCY

Mrs. Jessie Percy, wife of A. G. Percy who was killed by a short circuit at the Arctic Ice & Cold Storage company's plant north of this city filed a petition at Martinez yesterday asking that she be paid the $3000 employer's liability insurance due from the death of her husband.

Under the liability insurance his wife or dependent would be entitled to $3000.

At the time of Percy's death, his wife was suing for divorce. The amount if any to which she will be entitled is to be decided by the liability board. In her suit for divorce she asked for alimony of $2540 per month. On this it is said she would be entitled to but $900 for the insurance.

LABOR

Labor is one of the great elements of society; the great substantial interest on which we all stand—not feudal service or praedial toil or the irksome drudgery by one race of mankind subjected to another, but labor, intelligent, manly, independent, thinking and acting for itself, earning its own wages, accumulating those wages into capital, educating childhood, maintaining worship, claiming the right of elective franchise and helping to uphold the great fabric of the state. That is American labor, and all my sympathies are with it, and my voice till I am dumb will be for it—Daniel Webster.

CONGRESS IN 64TH SESSION; MANY ISSUES

The first session of the 64th Congress convened at noon Monday in the last congressional meeting before the 1916 presidential campaign. All 435 members of the house and 32 senators, (1-3 of the whole senate), were sworn in. Of the former, 116, of the latter, 9, were new.

Suffragists Parade

The spectacular feature attendant upon the opening was supplied by the parade of suffragists, welcoming their envoys from San Francisco with a monster petition bespeaking presidential and congressional aid for the federal suffrage amendment. A bleak, raw day, cost somewhat of a pall on the procession. Despite this, however a big throng marched bravely.

Billion Expense.

The government of the United States wants a billion and a quarter dollars for running expenses in 1917.

This estimate Monday was transmitted to Congress by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. The total reaches the tremendous sum of $1,285,857,808.16.

This is nearly $9 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

As complemented Monday, the result of congressional elections in November, 1914, the Democratice majority in the senate was increased from 13 to 16. In the house it was reduced from 143 to 25. The senate lineup today is: Democrats, 56; Republicans, 40. The new house: Democrats 230; Republicans, 196; Progressives 7; Socialists, 1; Independents, 1. The last house had 286 Democrats, 125 Republicans, 17 Progressives and 1 Independent. For the first time since the 62nd Congress the Socialist party was again represented today, Meyer London of New York, being the member.

Fate in Balance.

Re-election of President Wilson and continued Democratic control of the Nation's destinies was conceded by most legislators to hang upon the results of this session. Political flavor was added to the day by the presence in Washington of the Democratic National committee, which meets Tuesday to decide the time and place of the 1916 Democratic National convention. A week later the Republican National committee meets for the same purpose. The reconvening of congress was heralded among all party leaders as marking the opening of the 1916 political campaign.

Both legislative and political interest centered in the administration's billion-dollar national defense program. Whether the Democratic oposition would defeat the President's plans and also cause a breach in Democratic solidarity for the next campaign, caused much discussion. Chairman of the naval and military committees had the bills practically drafted and ready for early introduction.

BENEVOLENCE

An antique gentleman that happened to own a large and beautifully wooded tract of land, of no great value, on the edge of a big city, was suddenly stricken by belovenence one day while sunk in meditation.

A beatific smile lighted his face thereafter as he went through the process of conveying to the city one-half of his beautifully wooded tract for a public park.

The city received the tract with loud acclaim of the donor and the land was improved with drives, walks, flower gardens and shrubbery, fountains and benches whereupon could rest those that were weary of the strife for a living.

Pleasant homes sprang up around the new park, because of the obvious advantage.

Not long afterward the sons of the benevolent antique gentleman announced in the newspapers an "allotment" of the land retained by their father. Sites might be obtained for $15,000 and up if the purchasers were of proper character and standing and when they agreed to build homes of a value equal to that of the sites. Winding boulevards were constructed all through this "allotment" and within a very short time it became a "millionaire's residential park."

The antique benevolent gentleman passed away in contentment with having provided for his descendents by taking advantage of an oportunity to increase a small land value to an enormous one, and at the same time leave a monument to himself in the form of the park, named, of course for him.

His sons, it seems unnessary to add, are rich, though idle. They have only to receive the profits from the sale of sites in their "millionaire's park" and they are popular members of society.

What would have happened if the public had been as wise as the antique benevolent gentleman, and had justly taxed the land-value created by the community growth and exploited and impropriated by the doner of the park—that is another story.

GOMPERS FOR THE GOOD

for membership."

"There isn't anything fanciful that lures us on but the simple instinct of man to look and strive for all the things that are good and wholesome," says Samuel Gompers.

"If the men of labor hope to have still better improvements it is necessary that they shall associate themselves or unite with organized labor in its great efforts to make the lot of the worker more pleasant and agreeable. Unless we lift the burden from the shoulders of our brother it is certainly that the burden on our own shoulders will be so great that we shall be crushed under it.

"Our labor movement is not confined to the skilled worker.

REGENT THEATER

"Who Pays," one of the most successful series of pictures ever turned out by the Pathe exchange features the bill at the Regent theater tonight. Each of the series is complete in itself and each has an excellent moral. The story in brief is a s follows:

Fame with her scorching finger, touches lightly the fore head of youth—then flits away, intangible and elusive. Sometimes, and this is rare—Youth comes up with flame and clasps her jealously to him. But in every case, he who seeks Fame—he who would inhale the purer air of art, must needs shake from his shoulders the ties that bind him to the Earth. Simetimes he is alone—then it doesn't matter. Sometimes there is a wife ,on whom it is worse than death. But here is the tale: A young singer, aglow with the fervor of inspiration, eager for the social intercourse his art may open the way to, gets married. He marries a woman whose conception of ideal happiness is simple domesticity. Opportunity comes—no need to knock, he has been waiting for her. With his wife and child clinging as it were to his coat-tails, he follows the gleam, and they are cast off in the swiftness of his flight fame is within his grasp! For one mad moment he is identified with her—then something snaps. With the first blatant brass note from his silver throat he drops automatically back to earth, his eyes still blinded with the light of other spheres. His wife has gone, his friends have disappeared. With a heavy heart he turns back into the highway of life to be swallowed forever in the flux of obscure humanity.

AT THE RICHMOND

Though the photo dramatization of "The Arab," in which Edgar Selwyn plays the title role at the Richmond theater tonight is in the main an intense romatic drama centering about a plot for the massacre of all the Christians in a Syrian village, it is not lacking in lighter episodes. One of these occurs in the mission school, which has been joined by the young Shiek who is the hero fo the play not because he is generally converted to Christianity but because he has fallen in love with the daughter of the missionary, Mary, and wants to be near her. It is however this fortunate chance which saves the missionary, his daughter and all their pupils from being slain, as at the critical moment, the brave young bedouin becomes their nefender.

One of the episodes at the school shows Jamil (the Shiek) reading the bible upside down! Mary (the daughter of the Missionary) remonstrates with him and he replies—

"You have tried to teach me many things, but I have learned only one—to love you."

"Helen's Babies" a lively two reel Thanhouser playlet with plenty of human interest rounds out the evenings program with the lively Cub comedy featuring George Ovey is "Making Matters Worse."

HI NOTES

The second team of the high school basket ball squad will travel to Berkeley next Wednesday afternoon to play a return game with a team from one of the Preparatory High schools of that city. In the last game played the team lost a hard fought game. The score was 35-35 and in the playoff the oppoing team scored the first basket and won the game. Those that will probably accompany the team are: Walters, Greathouse, Lang, P. Sanborn, Stevens, Noyes, and Anderson.

OLD FAN BREAKS FORTH WITH THRILLING DRAMA BILL LUCE IS THE HERO

The great one act drama "The Whichness of Why" or "Did He", by and Old Fan, appears today according to schetule. The office assumes no responsibility for the journalistic gem. On account of the great volumne of the thrilling tale, the entire article does not appear today but will be continued in tomorrow's issue. Now look it over customers.

PLACE

Macdonald avenue Richmond, California.

TIME

5:00 P. M.—December 1915.—Pouring down Rain.

SCENE

Pacific Gas and Electric Office—Bill Luce at desk, light shining on his bald head, attracts passers attention.

SCENE I

Bill Luce enters office hurredly locks door shakes rain off his coat and umbrella, sets umbrella in corner, lays coat on counter opens safe takes out books, pulls stool up to high desk, lays books on desk opens books and gets busy. Looks up a minute later and says to himself. "Should pull down those curtains as I have lots of work to do and don't want any callers." However, he does not do it but starts off figuring.

Cliff Cleek had just finished, telling a crowd in Johnnie Peres cigar store why he felt Leggand, and starts home, but seeing light in Luce's ofice turns up coat collar to keep out the rain and dashes across street, knocks on door ofLuce's office and says "Open up Bill." Bill grumbles, gets off the stool, opens door and says, "Watche doing out in the rain." Cliff laughs, enters, "Some rain Bill, good thing didn't try that Winter League I had a hunch, let Cheeks outlaws get wet, eight months snuff for me." He closes door but leaves off catch, Luce returns to his desk and Cliff picks up DAIL NEWS and starts reading, but lays paper down rolls a cigarette and lights it. Bill has now actually worked 5 minutes Cliff says, "What do you think of the 4 team league next year Bill." Luce—"we could make it go if—."

Cleek—(interrupting.) "San Rafael would never draw well, they change lineup too much."

Luce—" We could do pretty good if"—

Cleek—"I thing Hollis could do more in San Rafael than Lowenberg.

Luce had now gotten off his stool and sharpening his pencil.

Cleek—"You can't beat Healdsburg with their own umpire, now when the yrobbed us in that —"

At that point there was a rustwhen they robbed us in that—" and Christenson enter, both wet.

Chris—Hello guys, hot stove league eh Bill, why don't you do your work in the day time.

Cuningham— Gimme a chew Chris, left mine in the working clothes." He picks up Luce's pad of paper and hollers "Roll Call."

Luce's—Hey lay off there, don't tear that paper, put your wet arm off that book." Luce closes book and puts it in safe. Cunningham goes back and gets down on tables uses waste basket as cuspidor.

Luce—"What do you fellers think of a league next year??"

Cliff—"Gee! I'll bet Healey was sore when he saw Benn had bated 420 in 10 games here, huh."—Luce laughs at that thought of how clever he was to get Eddie.

Cris—"He sure has a pretty peg.'

Luce—"Vallejo would like to get into the league."

Cunningham—"This rain reminds me of Portland."

Chris—" Reminds you of Portland?" What do you meat Portland? You've never been farther north that Healdsburg." Luce laughs. Cunningham misses waste basket and hits Cliff's shoe, (blue atmosphere and laughter at this point Dick Greathouse enters, chorus "Hello Dick."

Dick—"Well what do you fellers think of next year's prospect?"

Luce —"We were just talking over the prospect of a four team league—"
